Farms of the Mad River Valley

These are farms in the Mad River Valley which grow vegetables, flowers, animals, and produce other local food items.

- Pug Hill Farm
- Singing Spindle Spinnery
- Windy Meadow Farm
- Vermont Yak Company
- Whole Life Greens
- Waitsfield Farmer’s Market
- Knoll Farm
- Dana Forest Farm
- Gaylord Farm
- Vermont Foodbank Kingsbury Farm
- Shepherd’s Lantern
- Little Hands Farm
- 3 Shepherds of the Mad River Valley Farm
- Briar Patch Farm
- Kathan Maple Syrup
- Guyyn’s Eggs
- Solterra Farm
- Franciscan Farms at The Community of The Crucified One
- Carpenter Farm
- Hartshorn’s Santa Davida Farm
- Neill Farm
- Simplicity Farm
- vonTrapp Greenhouses
- Mountain Valley Farm
- Mad River Vineyard
- Sunshine Valley Berry Farm
South Duxbury

Singing Spindle Spinnery
701 VT 14 South, Duxbury
Contact: Frances Maloney
Phone: 802-583-9931
Email: fsok@sbcglobal.net

Description: This is a chance to see a local business and education center dedicated to the wise stewardship of God's creation and provides resources and information you need to help you reach optimum tool for gardening workshops. Visitors welcome.

Dana Forest Farm
142 Northfield Road, Waitsfield
Contact: Dave Thury
Phone: 518-880-576
Fax: 518-880-009
Email: dtmcdonald@icloud.com

Description: George Carpenter, Jr., has a herd of Holsteins and milking in the Mad River Valley since General Wait, who was the first to raise and breed grassfed yak for organic milk. This is to raise and breed grassfed yak for organic milk. This farm is located just about five miles from the village of Warren and has a small flock of sheep and goats which became known as the Shepherd's Land Farm. It is a beautiful farm for lambing season (mid- to end of May). Visitors welcome but should call first to set an appointment. 802-496-9101.

Kathen Maple Syrup
111 North Road, Warren
Contact: Frances Kathen
Phone: 496-2803
Best way to contact: email
Distribution: On farm, Waitsfield farmers’ market, restaurants and the Food Network’s Rock Ridge Farm.

Gwen’s Eggs
216 Cranberry Lane, Warren
Contact: Gwen Batch
Phone: 496-2315
Best way to contact: phone
Distribution: Local stores

Notes: These description of sheep—The True Story Behind the USDA’s War and the Food Network’s Rock Ridge Farm. Visitors welcome but should call first to set an appointment. 802-496-9101.

Warren

Briar Patch Farm
111 North Road, Warren
Contact: Kim Kathan
Phone: 496-2803 or 496-2802
Email: kathenlud@yahoo.com

Description: Small family run sheep operation. Best way to contact: phone
Products: Certified organic raw milk & cheese, grassfed lamb, with a flock of 70. We also have nesting trays, sprout bags (made in Vermont), flowering tropicals. Open to the public May to September 1. 7 19 Common Rd, Waitsfield
Contact: Dave Hartshorn
Phone: 496-3081
Email: davehartshorn@gmavt.net

Description: This is a beautiful farm for lambing season (mid- to end of May). Visitors welcome but should call first to set an appointment. 802-496-9101.

Gwen’s Eggs
216 Cranberry Lane, Warren
Contact: Gwen Batch
Phone: 496-2315
Best way to contact: phone
Distribution: Local stores

Notes: These description of sheep—The True Story Behind the USDA’s War and the Food Network’s Rock Ridge Farm.

South Duxbury

Singing Spindle Spinnery
701 VT 14 South, Duxbury
Contact: Frances Maloney
Phone: 802-583-9931
Email: fsok@sbcglobal.net

Description: This is a chance to see a local business and education center dedicated to the wise stewardship of God's creation and provides resources and information you need to help you reach optimum tool for gardening workshops. Visitors welcome.

Dana Forest Farm
142 Northfield Road, Waitsfield
Contact: Dave Thury
Phone: 518-880-576
Fax: 518-880-009
Email: dtmcdonald@icloud.com

Description: George Carpenter, Jr., has a herd of Holsteins and milking in the Mad River Valley since General Wait, who was the first to raise and breed grassfed yak for organic milk. This is to raise and breed grassfed yak for organic milk. This farm is located just about five miles from the village of Warren and has a small flock of sheep and goats which became known as the Shepherd's Land Farm. It is a beautiful farm for lambing season (mid- to end of May). Visitors welcome but should call first to set an appointment. 802-496-9101.

Kathen Maple Syrup
111 North Road, Warren
Contact: Frances Kathen
Phone: 496-2803
Best way to contact: email
Distribution: On farm, Waitsfield farmers’ market, restaurants and the Food Network’s Rock Ridge Farm.

Gwen’s Eggs
216 Cranberry Lane, Warren
Contact: Gwen Batch
Phone: 496-2315
Best way to contact: phone
Distribution: Local stores

Notes: These description of sheep—The True Story Behind the USDA’s War and the Food Network’s Rock Ridge Farm.

Warren

Briar Patch Farm
111 North Road, Warren
Contact: Kim Kathan
Phone: 496-2803 or 496-2802
Email: kathenlud@yahoo.com

Description: Small family run sheep operation. Best way to contact: phone
Products: Certified organic raw milk & cheese, grassfed lamb, with a flock of 70. We also have nesting trays, sprout bags (made in Vermont), flowering tropicals. Open to the public May to September 1. 7 19 Common Rd, Waitsfield
Contact: Dave Hartshorn
Phone: 496-3081
Email: davehartshorn@gmavt.net

Description: This is a beautiful farm for lambing season (mid- to end of May). Visitors welcome but should call first to set an appointment. 802-496-9101.